"Among the political prisoners interned in the prisons of Aiud, there are a few who had been members of the no longer existing organization of the Iron Guards. Heading the list of these prisoners is Nicolas Batrascu, former secretary general of the Iron Guards. In the first few years after World War II Batrascu collaborated intensively with the Communist government of his country. Even though he is now in prison he is again trying to collaborate. On more than one occasion he has asked the prison head to see whether he could arrange a 'resducation course' in political views for the prisoners. He is interested that the course be attended solely by the former members of the Iron Guards, now prisoners, who might be interested in joining the Communist

"The following persons are among the political and military prisoners held 5. in the prisons of Aiud:

During last March, a group of political prisoners, headed by the former Ambassador Vasile Stoica, were transported at the order of the "Securitatea"—the Secret Police—from the prisons of Aiud to an unknown destination. This group was followed by other groups, also, as it seemed, taken to the same unknown destination. Reports following these transports of prisoners maintained that the men were taken from their prisons during the night and sent temporarily to Pomarla in Moldavia. From there, they were expected to be sent to the USSR. These reports, however, have so far not been confirmed. The first few transports, it seemed to observers, will precipitate others, and it is expected that all the political prisoners will be moved from the prisons of Aiud. Only former members of the Iron Guards will be left there along with the common criminals."
